

Invertebrate Investigations

Potential Risk	Control Strategies
Live animals and specimens have spines or claws	Always touch and handle specimens with care
Specimens may become sharp if broken	Report any broken or damaged items to staff
Activities include field work	School safety procedure must be followed and students must be supervised by a teacher at all times.

Australian Dinosaurs

Potential Risk	Control Strategies
Fossils and specimens have spines or claws	Always touch and handle specimens with care
Specimens may become sharp if broken	Report any broken or damaged items to staff
Activities conducted outdoors	School safety procedure must be followed and students must be supervised by a teacher at all times.

Dynamic Earth

Potential Risk	Control Strategies
Rocks can have sharp sides or points	Always touch and handle specimens with care
Specimens may become sharp if broken	Report any broken or damaged items to staff
Activities include experiments	School safety procedure must be followed and students must be supervised by a teacher at all times.

Australian Animal Adventures

Potential Risk	Control Strategies
Live animals and specimens have spines or claws	Always touch and handle specimens with care
Specimens may become sharp if broken	Report any broken or damaged items to staff
Activities conducted outdoors	School safety procedure must be followed and students must be supervised by a teacher at all times.

Sustainability Starts with You

Potential Risk	Control Strategies
Specimens have spines or claws	always touch and handle specimens with care
Specimens may become sharp if broken	Report any broken or damaged items to staff
Activities conducted outdoors	School safety procedure must be followed and students must be supervised by a teacher at all times.

Australian Environmental Education and staff have the following:

- Public Liability Insurance
- Professional Indemnity Insurance
- Working with Children Check
- National Police Check

NOTE: The Schools or centre is expected to have their own first aid kit when participating in the above programs on the school grounds.